LEGGETT & PLATT

Leggett & Platt® Work Furniture is the leading independent producer of chair-control mechanisms, furniture bases, molded plywood, and plastic components for office furniture manufacturers worldwide. Because work is no longer done solely in the office, the lines between work and home have begun to blur. Work is now done at home, at the coffee shop, or in the airport. Work Furniture is evolving with the technology revolution, understanding our customers' needs and staying in tune with the industry.

Design and Development

Established in 2007 to provide us with a dedicated R&D resource, our Design and Development Group provides product development services to both internal and external clients.

- Our products keep our customers competitive in the market with innovations in motion/adjustability, material science and processes, and technology interfaces.
- We collaborate with top industrial designers and manufacturers to generate innovative ideas.
- Our team can assist in everything you need for your next project, including research, design, engineering, marketing, sales, project management, and manufacturing.
- Our process:
 - o Exploration – extensive research to gain insight into what drives new customer needs.
 - o Generation – development of prototypes, testing, and review for quality assurance.
 - o Implementation – product is handed off to manufacturing for final launch.

Innovative and Quality Products

We believe in creating value for our customers by offering convenience, comfort, and fresh excitement through the highest quality products, materials, and services.

Leggett & Platt Work Furniture is known for the innovation, quality, and diversity of its products.

The keys to our success are:

- A global network of world-class manufacturing facilities.
- Partnership with 11 innovative companies.
- In-house design, tooling, and prototype services.

World Class Finished Goods

Work Furniture is a full-service resource partner in: ideation, design, development, assembly, and delivery/distribution. Our network of manufacturers and suppliers around the world ensure we have the right product, right cost, right quantity, and right place at the right time. And our customers reap the benefits.

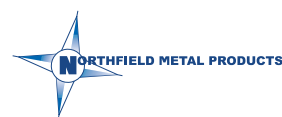

- Access to key technologies, engineering, and logistics.
- Enhanced purchasing power and global supply chain resources.
- Lower operating costs, working capital investments, and other fixed costs.
- Speed-to-market.

Globally Connected Services

Leggett & Platt's worldwide influence allows us to better support our customers' needs with global manufacturing distribution and logistics capabilities. Through our Global Supply Chain Solutions, we have access to resources that allow us to compete on a global scale while operating with the customer service of a smaller company, giving our customers consistency, peace of mind, and cost savings.

- International sourcing, purchasing, distribution, and transportation management systems.
- Globally negotiated pricing.
- Consolidated carriers and freight forwarders.
- Increased communication between Leggett & Platt groups.
- Customs compliance.
- Standard Operating Procedures across branches and groups.

With steady success since 1883, Leggett & Platt also maintains strong financial resources and stability despite a global recession. We're well positioned to meet the challenges of reducing our global carbon footprint, and that of our customers. We have 15 branches that have passed all mandatory Renewable Portfolio Standards in their respective states, meaning approximately 15% of our U.S. electric consumption is renewable energy. This allows us to offer clean, cost-effective solutions that meet your professional needs without compromising your desire to manage a green-conscious production.
